Patrick is an Associate with the firm and focuses his practice in Intellectual Property and Patents.

A graduate of the University of Akron School of Law, Patrick received the CALI Award of Excellence for LARW II and Patent Office Litigation. While attending law school, he worked as a patent agent for several companies/firms from 2015 through 2018, prosecuting utility and design patents and conducting prior art searches. Prior to law school, he had an extensive engineering career that primarily related to liquid crystal display technology and associated electronics and semiconductors. He is experienced in patent licensing and is a named inventor on nine U.S. patents.

Patrick is a member of the Ohio State Bar Association, the Stark County Bar Association and the Akron Bar Association. Additionally, he is a member of CIPLA (Cleveland Intellectual Property Law Association), and SID (Society for Information Display). He serves as Councilman for Hills and Dales Village, and is a member of Community Legal Aid.
